The Chief Officer saw the speed boats and activated the SSAS. One of the crew also managed to alert other vessels anchored nearby via the vessel's radio. The robbers threatened, gathered and tied the crew, including the master, in the mess room. The robbers then ordered the master to go up to the bridge to steer the vessel to Tompok Utara. After a few minutes of sailing, eight of the robbers went to the main deck and left the product tanker. The remaining two robbers then commanded the master to sail to Pulau Lima instead, to wait for speed boat to pick him. After less than seven minutes, the two robbers upon seeing a MMEA patrol vessel approaching Moresby 9, escaped via the port side of the bridge with cash and crew's personal belongings such as mobile phones, laptops and watch. The robbers, in their escape, left behind their long knives. The MMEA personnel boarded the vessel, ordered the crew to assemble at the bow of the ship and dropped anchor. The initial investigation carried out by the MMEA revealed that the motive of the robbers was to hijack the tanker and transfer the fuel cargo onboard into other vessels at less 'monitored' locations. [ReCAAP Focal Point (Singapore), MMEA, Shipping company]
